

Our IPM certification ensures that we are a sustainable agriculture supplier, according to the program's rigorous and thorough requirements. In a nutshell, the program is intended to promote environmental stewardship through protecting ecologically sensitive areas, improving air, water and soil quality, reducing, reusing and recycling resources, conserving energy and minimizing agrochemical inputs.